Insight 1 The Need to Appreciate the Built Heritage

With a focus on assisting The Need to Appreciate the Built Heritage, the Insight 1 series of six Units and five Image Sets have been compiled by Barry J Bridgwood and Ingval Maxwell in furtherance of COTAC's Educational Aims and Objectives. The target audience covers a wide range of cohorts including students, the general public, crafts, trades and professionals who wish to gain an Appreciation of practical heritage conservation, its associated challenges, working practices and the philosophy which underpins it.

Florence Heri-Tech Conference - Call for Papers

Florence Heri-Tech was launched in 2018 by the Department of Industrial Engineering of University of Florence (DIEF) and Florence Biennial Art and Restoration Fair. The idea is to create a synergy between Cultural Heritage and New Technologies. The Conference involves a large number of research projects and scholars from around the world and puts the industry's current issues under the spotlight, specifically on issues related to innovative techniques and technologies for Cultural Heritage.

Study 3 BIM4C Integrating HBIM Framework Report Illustrative Bibliography

Continuing COTAC's investigation as to how BIM might be impacting upon the existing built heritage, this newly revised Study 3 COTAC BIM4C Integrating HBIM Framework Illustrative Bibliography of web-searched findings is presented in three Parts:

- Part 1: Organisations, Bodies, Industry and Practices Web Search Findings
- Part 2: Research Web Search Findings
- Part 3: Case Study Web Search Findings

Heavily referenced across the three categories, each entry is accompanied by its source url, all of which were correct to 17 December 2020. It replaces the earlier draft edition, dated 2016.

A Global Survey on Education and Training for the Conservation of Twentieth-Century Built Heritage

DOCOMOMO International and the Getty Conservation Institute collaborated to assess the status of education and training on twentieth-century built heritage conservation worldwide. The Conserving Modern Architecture Initiative (CMAI) of the Getty Conservation Institute and DOCOMOMO's International Specialist Committee on Education and Training (ISC/E+T) developed and distributed an online survey aimed at understanding whether the subject of twentieth-century built heritage conservation is being taught, and, if so, where and how.

ICOMOS Germany calls for entries for "60 plus: Brutalism"

The ICOMOS Student Competition 2021 is dedicated to the heritage of Brutalism of the era before 1990. The aim of the competition task is not only to admonish that the buildings of Brutalism must be preserved, but to precisely state what makes them worth preserving.

Study 4 List of UK & RoI Heritage Courses 2020

Correct to 16 November 2020 the material offered in this Study has been directly sourced, as a desk exercise, from the online web-sites of numerous institutes' in the UK and Republic of Ireland that indicated their delivery of Heritage orientated courses.

The listed information is presented by University location, Award Level, Course Title, if the material is presented as a Module, and which organisation offers their accredited recognition, together with the reference url from where the information was obtained.

At a time when considerable uncertainty exists as to how higher education might be delivered in the future due to the 2020 Covid pandemic, this Study is also intended to provide a baseline against which any future changes might be measured and assessed.

Users of this Study may wish to be made aware of the more focused lists of Postgraduate, Undergraduate, Craft and Short Courses is maintained and offered under the ‘Conservation Course’ website Menu tab. Here, it is anticipated, COTAC will aim to present up-to-date information as and when that might be released by the various providers.

Blast from the Past!

From the COTAC Archives - Issue 12, September 1997

In 1997 COTAC hosted its Conference in Bradford, exploring the theme of how local pride in the quality of the built environment can create a demand for high standards.
